“Another advantage of Solignum is that it also provides solution to other wood pests such as woodborer and fungi. This is because Solignum is formulated to provide dual protection against wood pests. It has both fungicide and insecticide to ensure the wood is protected. Unlike other wood preservatives that require homeowners to buy two different product to address the problem of termites and fungi,” added Ms. Tiu.

Solignum Aerosol comes handy in a 500ml canister, with 360 degree spray valve for more convenient and easy application. It is now available in all leading Do-It-Yourself and hardware stores nationwide.
