Solignum Colourless AZ Aerosol: Your D-I-Y protection against termites, woodborers and fungi

Solignum, the leading wood preservative introduces Solignum Colourless AZ Aerosol—the most convenient wood preservative to date.

Now in an aerosol packaging, Solignum Colourless AZ Aerosol is the same tried, tested, and trusted Solignum wood preservative that is proven to protect wood from the damage of termites, wood borers and fungi. It is in ready to use and spray packaging, ideal for small wooden application such as cabinets, chairs, furniture and hard to reach areas.

Jardine Distribution, Inc.

Solignum Colourless AZ Aerosol comes in a 500ml 360-degree spray can, making it practical and economical to use. The 500ml spray canister covers 2-4 square meters depending on the porosity of wood. This is enough to cover small wooden application, thus, it eliminates wastage.

Solignum Colourless AZ Aerosol being the first in the market is in 360-degree spray canister, which makes it so convenient to use. It can be used upside down for hard to reach fixed areas such as seaming and framing.

“Solignum being the leading wood preservative in the market launched Solignum aerosol as an answer to the increasing demand for do it yourself products. Aerosol is very ideal for those who want to do the application themselves minus the hassle. It is very convenient to use as it doesn’t require any mixing. With the new Solignum Colourless AZ Aerosol, Any control is just a spray away!” said Peachy Tiu, product manager of Solignum.

Solignum Colourless AZ Aerosol is now available in leading do-it-yourself stores (DIY) and hardware stores nationwide.
